Course Details

Term:	SS Full 2013	Credit Hours:	3.0
Equivalent:	EDUC 5704	Contact Hrs:	3-0-0

Overview: CAAP 6605 Foundational Counselling and Conflict Resolution Skills focuses on the understanding and acquisition of skills that are essential for the development of working alliances in counselling contexts. The course will introduce a theoretical framework for the application of counselling skills in addition to providing opportunity for skill practice.

Counselling is a relationship that requires the counsellor's personal involvement. Knowing yourself as a person and as a counsellor are vital parts of this focus. Being present for the client, respecting boundaries, understanding projections, and expanding awareness of your sense of self are some themes that will be addressed.

This course will be delivered through lecture and lab experiences. The lecture component will develop a theoretical framework for the application of communication skills within the counselling process. The lab component will provide opportunity for skill practice. Reflective exercises, lectures, small group practice, skill demonstrations, peer supervision and instructor feedback will be employed in the teaching of counselling skills. You are expected to consult and practice with your peers as much as possible outside of the classroom.

Objectives

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- ✦ Demonstrate an understanding of: 1) the history and philosophy of counselling and counselling psychology in Canada, and 2) the role and identity of professional counselors and counselling psychologists, and their relationship with other related professions;
- ✦ Describe the characteristics and responsibilities of effective helpers;
- ✦ Describe the importance of the therapeutic alliance;
- ✦ Identify and effectively demonstrate the following groups of essential interviewing and basic counselling skills:
 - Invitational skills
 - Opening skills
 - Structuring skills
 - Soliciting skills
 - Refecting skills
- ✦ Establish a collaborative helping relationship and maintain appropriate professional boundaries;
- ✦ Understand and apply effective counselling skills to structure a counselling interview, facilitate client exploration of issues, examine alternative perspectives, and develop appropriate actions with respect to issues present;
- ✦ Identify the relationships between counselling outcomes and communication skills applied;
- ✦ Identify the limits of their helping skills and articulate how to provide effective referrals when necessary;
- ✦ Develop sensitivity for issues and trends affecting diverse groups;
- ✦ Appropriately receive and utilize feedback from instructor, TA, and peers;
- ✦ Engage in self-reflection and self-exploration.

Note: Outcomes are linked to the Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy's requirements for accreditation of Master's programs.

Evaluation

Course Assignments	Weighting
Daily Video/Audio Transcript: Self-Awareness Demonstration (Total of 4) The purpose of this assignment is to develop your critical awareness of how your communications shape the responses of helpees, and for you to consider alternatives to how you communicated. Note: this assignment is not intended for you to demonstrate your very best skills in the transcript. From Mon-Thur of SI, you will select and transcribe a 5-minute segment from one of your practice sessions that demonstrates your use of at least one of the major skills learned that day. The focus of the assignment is to reflect on what you did say and the impact it had on the helpee’s response; then, provide 2 alternative responses you could have offered and a short reflection on how the helpee may have responded. DUE July 30th, 31st, Aug. 1st, and 2nd (Submit online before the beginning of class on day due).	20%
Working Alliance Paper You will write a 4-5 page paper, exclusive of references and cover page, summarizing and discussing the literature on the Working Alliance construct and the course material. You will demonstrate your own personal integration of the Working Alliance construct. DUE May 26th	20%
Three “Learnings” Summary The three “learnings” assignment requires you to summarize your most important learning in each of the counselling roles (helper, helpee, observer) over the span of the course. DUE Aug. 6th.	10%
Video Assignment: Skills Demonstration You will be required to provide a 20-min. video demonstration of your counselling skills in a simulated context along with a verbatim transcription of the session. The focus of the counselling skills demonstration will be on your ability to explore a client presenting issue	30%

using the skills learned in class. Accuracy, focus and fluency with process will be the basis for assignment evaluation. DUE Aug. 6th.
DF and Class Participation Active participation in class discussion and activities is essential for your professional development and integration of counselling skills. You are expected to have completed all assigned readings in advance of the class and be prepared to engage in discussion, self-reflection, and experiential activities. Midterm feedback on participation will be provided at the end of Week 3 online.	20%
Course Total	100%

Notes:

-  Further information and guidance with respect to the course assignments, including grading rubrics, will be provided in Moodle on the first day of the course.
-  Late assignments will be penalized 3% per day late (incl. weekends).
-  Exceeded page length will be penalized 3% per page. As graduate students, it is expected that you learn to write in a concise manner.

Writing Expectations

It is expected that your writing meet the expectations of a graduate level program, including abiding by the APA Publication Manual (6th ed.). In addition, you will want to keep in mind the following points:

U of L, Foundational Counselling and Conflict Resolution Skills, SS 2013
Instructor: Dr. J. Thannhauser

- Writing must demonstrate appropriate standards of written communication in graduate school; as such, avoid grammatical errors, lack of clarity, poor structure or organization.
- Textbooks (tertiary sources) are not acceptable sources for citing. You should be using primary resources or secondary sources (journal articles, books).
- Use Canadian spelling.
- Submit all assignments typed, in Word document format, with a title page (see APA Publication Manual for sample).
- Unless otherwise indicated, submit your assignments through the Moodle system. Electronic files should be saved as: LastName_course_assign name_date.doc (or .docx). Hard copies should be printed on 8 ½ x 11" paper and STAPLED, unless otherwise indicated by instructor.
- Number all pages. Insert your last name in the header with the page number on all pages (Last name pg#).
- All papers are to be double-spaced.
- Class handouts can use single-spaced bullets and/or include PowerPoint handouts.
- Include a reference page with proper APA formatting with all assignments, unless otherwise indicated.
- Page requirements do not include title page, references, and appendices (if appropriate).

Course Policies

Respect: In order to create an optimal learning environment for you, it is critical that we treat each other professionally and with respect, including: regular and early participation in discussion forums; avoiding abusive language; avoiding use of cell phones, email, and the internet during face-to-face class; demonstrating respect for different opinions; and adhering to confidentiality. Confidentiality refers to not sharing identifying details of classmates' stories/experiences with others outside the course AND not talking to each other about other classmates' stories/experiences. Please only share what you are comfortable sharing in the class context.

Learning responsibilities: In order to be an active learner, you are responsible for reading and knowing the information in all assigned readings, even if not covered directly in class lectures. This information is expected to be integrated into your assignments, as appropriate. I rarely teach directly from the textbook; rather, I supplement your readings with additional information to maximize your learning opportunities. You are also expected to complete all course assignments.

Attendance: Mandatory attendance at all weekly lessons is required, except in exceptional circumstances approved by the instructor. Should you be absent from a lesson, you are required to assume responsibility for catching up on all the material and information missed by contacting a fellow classmate. Notify the instructor if you are going to be absent.

Academic accommodation: If you have a disability that requires academic accommodation, please follow the procedures outlined in the university calendar. In addition, please notify the instructor within the first week of the start of the course or for a more recent disability, due to an accident or illness, no later than a week upon your return to class.

Academic dishonesty: Academic dishonesty is a very serious ethical issue and dishonesty will not be tolerated, including not properly crediting others when paraphrasing or quoting their work, copying another student's work, submitting work that is not completely your own (except in situations of group work), and submitting work (or substantial portions of work) previously submitted in another course. Please consult the U of L's calendar for the definition and consequence of this behaviour.

Assignment submission and late policy: Hard copies of assignments must be uploaded to Moodle by the start time of class (Daily Video Assignment only) AND/OR assignments must be uploaded to Moodle by 23:55 on the day they are due; otherwise they will be marked as late. A late policy of 3% per day including weekends applies to all assignments received after 23:55. Extensions will only be granted in exceptional circumstances that are unpredictable and out of your control. Documentation must be provided by a relevant professional (e.g., doctor).

Assignment assistance: I want you to succeed in this course; therefore, I am happy to help answer any questions or concerns you have about assignments and/or class material. However, I am only able to help you if you come to me with your questions or concerns, so please come see me, as I am here to support you and your learning.

Computer problems: You must do everything in your power to find a way to connect to the internet or access a computer as needed to complete your work. You must still submit assignments on time and be involved in DFs.

Professional conduct: All students in the course are required to adhere to the Standards of Professional Conduct as outlined in the most recent edition of the U of L Calendar, Faculty of Education section VI. Any violations will result in dismissal from the class and/or a failing course grade being awarded.
